DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gatellier (FR 2 613 232).

Regarding claim 2, Gatellier discloses a nasal stimulator comprising: a cylinder, said cylinder including a convex widening periphery 4 throughout a central portion at a first portion of said cylinder (a first portion can be arbitrarily defined; member 4 is approximately at the center of member 1 - See Figure 1), a flattened portion at a second portion of said cylinder which faces a nasal septum during use (the flat portion above member 4 in Figure 1 would face a users septum as claimed; it is noted that Applicant's flattened portion is rounded in a circumferential direction as is Gatellier's); a rim on a lower part of said cylinder; and a protruding support extending from said rim (member 3 can be the rim as claimed and has a protruding portion or support which extends to a wider diameter than member 1 as seen in Figure 1). See diagram below:

3. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Carlock (US 2,672,138).

Regarding claims 2 and 3, Carlock discloses a nasal stimulator comprising: a cylinder 12, said cylinder including a convex widening periphery 1 throughout a central portion at a first portion of said cylinder (member 1 extends partially into a central portion of the cylinder), a flattened portion (at 3 in Figure 1) at a second portion of said cylinder which faces a nasal septum during use; a rim 14 on a lower part of said cylinder; and a protruding support 15 extending from said rim. Regarding claim 3, Carlock discloses a pair of said cylinders (Figure 2), said pair of said cylinder being joined to one another by a curved tongue 8.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed September 21st 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that Gatellier does not disclose the convex periphery or the flattened portion as claimed. Examiner respectfully disagrees and has described above in detail how these limitations are believed to be met.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
